Oregon Peach Bitters

About eighteen years ago I received a hurt in my back from a pile of lumber falling on me, and ever since had been troubled with weak kidneys more or less, and the last year very much. Through the recommendation of Henry Keene, I bought a bottle of H. Keene's Oregon Peach Bitters and before I had taken half the bottle I found a great relief from it. I believe it to be a splendid remedy for the kidneys, and heartily recommend it for the same.

LATEST DISPATCHES.

An Overdose of Laudanum, Taken by Mistake, Proves Fatal.

FATAL FAMILY FIGHT.

A Missouri Husband Shoots his Wife, and She Will Probably die.

WARRENTON (Mo.), March 30.—News has reached this town of a shooting affair in which Green Humphreys, who lives in the northern part of the county, shot his wife twice with a revolver, one ball taking effect in her back and the other in her arm. Little hopes are entertained of her living until morning. Family trouble was the cause of the tragedy.

All day officers and their deputies have been searching the hills and forests for Humphreys. At 10 o'clock to-night he was captured by Deputy Sheriff George Leack and Simon Hill about three miles south of Warrentown, at Liburn McCann's place, a brother-in-law of Humphreys. The prisoner was placed in jail. This terrible tragedy is the outgrowth of family troubles, which have been going on for about five years. Humphreys is 52 years old and his wife is the mother of thirteen children, twelve of whom are still living. Some three weeks ago Humphreys and his wife separated, but shortly afterwards lived together again. It seems the same old trouble was renewed yesterday, and the quarrel culminated in the husband shooting his wife twice, one ball taking effect in the back and the other in the arm. Very little hope is entertained of her recovery.

On Trial for Murder.

BLOOMINGTON (Ill.), March 30.—Anderson Duff is on trial in the McLean County Circuit Court for the murder of John Stewart, between this city and Normal last November. Duff is a prosperous colored man and is married. Stewart, another colored man, was a widower and was soon to marry Anna Crawford. It seems that Duff had become enamored of the young girl. He had tried to break up the match, and failing to do this, he lay in wait for Stewart one night when he was returning from a visit to his affianced, shot him with a shot gun, the shot killing him instantly, the shot breaking Stewart's neck. The girl, who is but seventeen years of age appears as an important witness. She is a very pretty mulatto. Stewart and Duff were about the same age, both being over 40.

Took Too Much Laudanum.

FORT SCOTT (Kan.), Mar. 30.—Mr. J. S. Moffit, a prominent real estate agent who came to this city from Virginia about a year ago, was found in his room at the Star hotel early this morning, suffering from an overdose of laudanum, which he had taken, it is supposed, to relieve a stomach trouble with which he was known to have suffered much. Every possible effort was made to relieve him, but without avail, death coming at 1 o'clock. Deceased had bought considerable property in Fort Scott, and was known to be the possessor of valuable securities in Virginia, his former home.

Female Swindler Arrested.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30.—Mrs. Bertha Stanley, the Eastern confidence operator, who swindled a number of the Jewish residents of this city about two weeks ago and then disappeared, was arrested this afternoon at San Antonio, Texas. The arrest was made at the instance of William Gruhn, whom she swindled out of valuable jewelry after she accepted his offer of marriage.

Death From a Strange Cause.

SAN JOSE, March 30.—Constable Morris Ladd is dying at his home in this city, from glanders. Constable Ladd contracted the disease three weeks ago from a glandered horse. He was treating the animal, and was inoculated in one finger.

Turn out this evening at 7:30 o'clock and hear the "Little Giant" in the opera house.

PROHIBITION STATE PLATFORM.

The platform adopted at the Prohibition State Convention, held in Portland this week, is interesting as setting forth the political reforms that impracticable party has set out to accomplish. Besides the abolition of the manufacture and sale of liquors, they design to give the electoral suffrage to women, disfranchise illiterates and paupers, and make a longer residence than five years a condition of citizenship. They favor the restoration of unearned land grants, the enforcement of the provisions of the inter-state commerce law, the abolition of national bank currency, a reform in our tax system, the election of United States senators by a direct vote of the people, and numerous other reforms. Such an enumeration of principles may have the quality of high moral worth, but it is outside of "practical politics," and is altogether too heavy a load to bear. When the millennium comes we may expect to have our social system entirely reconstructed. Here is the prohibition state platform:

WHEREAS, The three great objects of government are the securing to the citizens the rights of life, liberty and property; and

WHEREAS, Through the criminal neglect and pernicious legislation of the dominant political parties, great evils have been fostered which impair all these rights, most prominent among which evils is that of the legalized liquor traffic. With a firm reliance upon an overruling Providence in favor of the right and upon the moral sense of our best citizenship, the prohibition party of Oregon submit the following platform of principles: the government

First—Should prohibit the manufacture, sale, supply, exportation and importation of, and interstate commerce in all intoxicating liquors as a beverage.

Second—Should submit to the legislatures of the several states a measure separate from every other question, providing by an amendment to the constitution the disfranchisement of paupers, illiterates and convicted criminals, and abolishing the sex basis in the elective franchise.

Third—Should enforce the restoration of all unearned land grants, and prevent corporations and aliens from obtaining control of great areas of country.

Fourth—Should maintain the principles of the interstate commerce law and make such changes as will prevent extortion or discrimination against persons, places or products.

Fifth—Should issue all money direct, and make all money so issued a full legal tender for all purposes.

Sixth—Should provide for electing United States senators by a direct vote of the people.

Seventh—Should declare the modern "trust" and other combinations for maintaining artificial prices to be a conspiracy against the common welfare, and that it be punished accordingly.

Eighth—Should abolish the internal revenue and correct the inequalities and eliminate the unjust discrimination of the present tariff schedule.

Ninth—Should vigorously enforce the prohibition of the importation of contract labor, prevent the landing, so far as possible, of all socialists, anarchists, criminals and paupers.

The prohibition party pledges itself to do these things whenever it gains control of the government.

Now is the Time

Now that the political campaign is approaching it is seasonable time to subscribe for the CAPITAL JOURNAL. It will contain full reports of all political conventions, meetings and elections, and a cordial discussion of the questions at issue, and will be delivered anywhere in the city for 15 cents per week, or will be sent by mail for $5 per year. Leave orders at this office or with the route agent.

NEWS FROM THE OLD WORLD.

Terrible Sufferings Caused by the Recent Inundations in Germany.

BERLIN, March 30.—At Posen the military barracks have been opened as a refuge for persons who have been made homeless by the floods. At Cologne several quays have been submerged, and those who inhabit houses near the banks of the Rhine are leaving them.

By the capsizing of a boat near Bortzenberg nine persons were drowned.

FEARFUL DEVASTATIONS.

BERLIN, Mar. 30.—Heavy storms continue in the flooded districts. The Posen gas works have been totally swept away. The Rhine is now rising rapidly. People are evacuating their houses on the lower banks. The inundations yet to come must be widespread, as the snow averages four feet deep in the forest lands and rapid thaws are imminent. The distress along the vintula has exceeded the worst expectations, and there can be no question of the harvests for the inhabitants of the surrounding districts this year.

The Rich Hill Disaster.

KANSAS CITY, March 30.—Times reporters sent by special train to the scene of the Rich Hill mine disaster returned to-night, and from their information the situation may be summarized as follows: The death list has reached twenty-one, and nine of the injured are expected to die, making the probable loss of life by the explosion thirty. Some claim natural gas the cause of the explosion, while others contend that an accumulation of foul gases, without proper ventilation, was the real cause. The state mine inspector examined the mine March 6, and pronounced it safe. The Rich Hill Herald this evening strongly denounces him, and demands his immediate suspension from office.

May Lose the Appointment.

WASHINGTON, March 30.—The President to-day, in conversation with a Californian, said that protests had been received by mail and telegraph against the appointment of every resident of California whose name has been mentioned in the newspapers in connection with the appointment for the Melbourne position, and he was so displeased with the whole matter that he had thought of giving the office to another State.

Mr. Mills' Lecture.

Walter Thomas Mills, the little giant of Ohio, lectured this afternoon in the opera house, for a somewhat sparse audience. The bad weather and the horse show detracted from the attractive powers of the temperance lecturer. Those who attended, however, were entertained with a pleasing flow of oratory, and an able presentation of the third party question. He condemned the saloon as an enemy to society; because it enjoys privileges without performing corresponding duties. This was enforced upon the hearers with powerful logic and great fertility of illustrations. The greater part of his attention was devoted to high license. He distinctly affirms that this is not a step toward the abolition of the liquor traffic, but a long stride in the other direction. It is not giving half a loaf, but dispensing more beer. He quoted the liquor statistics of several states to prove this proposition. In Michigan where one penitentiary held all the criminals of the state, the adoption of high license led to such an increase of drunkenness and crime, that in two years three penitentiaries were more than filled and an appropriation for a fourth building was before the legislature. As the hour for going to press is at hand, we must defer a further report of Mr. Mills' argument till Monday. The eloquent lecturer speaks again this evening at 7:30 o'clock, and to hear him is an intellectual treat.
